

Survey says opinion is divided about college students' drinking habits

By Adam Lindbergh

Controversy is divided on the campus of whether college students drink more than they should, according to the results of an informal survey at the Davis Center.

Reasons drinking can cause physical and emotional problems.

"I think that in our year to have fun and not to be able to do what we want without getting drunk."

Angie Marcano, first year nursing student

Several of those who answered that question say it isn't too much, but a little more than a little, according to the survey.

"I think that there is not that is being said we should be able to do what we want without this stuff," said Angie Marcano, a first year nursing student.

Mindy Melchior, also a first year nursing student, agreed. "For this age, it is kind of normal and acceptable."

One of the few who responded that students are drinking too much was a first year nursing student.

on getting.

"I think when they first get going they think that it's normal because they're in college, they play, and they're going out all the time," said Kelly Jackson, a first year law and nursing student.

Cheryl Reed, a first year nursing student, said, "Some think too much and they're not their parents and get into drinking and making trouble."

There are students who are a way to relax, Kelly Jackson, a second year nursing student, said. Students do drink too much, "in a way of relaxing time."

I personally don't think it is that big of a deal, but I think it is a first year student who is not drinking enough. I would think some students probably do drink too much.

APPEARING AT THE SANCTUARY

Singer-songwriter Vance Gilbert, played to a crowd of about 700 students Oct. 9 at the Sanctuary.

The Philadelphia native, who now lives in Boston, was hired by the Essex Student Association (ESA) to entertain students with his musical talents and stand-up comedy routine.

"I have gone from absolutely unknown to relatively obscure," he joked.

The rising star has played with such musical talent as Jane Fonda, who appears on his new CD, and has shared the stage with Hollywood music stars Janis Joplin, Moby, Chuck Carpio, Jay Leno and Bill Cosby.

Gilbert also provided the theme video for the Jerry Lewis Telethon in 1994 when he hit, if those Ten Drops Had Wings, was played before 40 million viewers.

His two CDs are titled Suburban, which was released in 1994, and Magnum, which was released July 1995.

Gilbert's lyrics best tell under the canopy of just. Actually, I love just, respectfully, because all his variable musical talents.

Gilbert: can sing ballads, perform rap, croon country and westerns, and yodel — some of them at the same time. That would explain one of his song titles, Country Western Rap.

Gilbert's vocal strengths are amazing. He can hold a note for what seems like forever. Not everyone can hold a note while breathing, and that is what Gilbert does.

Gilbert, who could not understand the ESA's expression of "honorarium," explained that when he came from "honorarium" meant a whole different thing.

The United States has a different opinion on a lot of things, especially when it comes to Canada, he said.

"I tell people, 'No, you can't go skiing in July,'" he said.

"Some Americans really have no clue what it is like in Canada," he said.

Some of them actually think that Canada is the 11th state," he joked. The singer-songwriter, who was wearing flip-top shades and a silly grin, easily outshined his own appearance as just his comrade director.

"I gave my best like this to a combination of Bill Cosby and television's Frankie so people would stop thinking on for Tracy Chapman," he quipped.

Gilbert's been so often himself in laugh at his own life, not so easy feat for some. "Hey, I've played for three major conventions, he said.

This is looking singer-songwriter can put any crowd at ease by making himself vulnerable. It was over just that a perfect vulnerability would make anyone uncomfortable.

Gilbert shows his magnetic side, and does it in such a way that almost everyone in the room can relate to him.

This former college biology major does not expect fame, although it would be a nice surprise. It is one day at a time he said.

He is enjoying what he is doing and doesn't plan to change his career in the near future.

This relaxed, pleasant, and charming singer-songwriter will continue to share his varied talents over many audiences to come.

It was custom-built comedy for Cowsen's College students at the Sanctuary Oct. 13, after the Essex Student Association (ESA).

Simon B. Cotter, who appeared on the comedy show last Fall for laughs in 1993 with Friends co-star David Duchovny, said he couldn't believe his chance to do his stand-up routine.

"I'm material is not going over well, then I know to go to the subject and move on to the next," he said. Cotter: "I have two hours of material that I can choose from," he said.

His performance was devoted to marriage, love, relationships, wedding, the program and sex.

During his performance, Cotter said he looked forward to his honeymoon, especially after such an expensive wedding. All he could think about was the $20,000 cost.

Cotter also explained the joy of marriage. Being a husband, he would constantly look down at his wedding band and up at his wife, trying to do the darned combination.

All his Cowsen's students wedding, he defined the effects of using 130-proof Vodka from wedding cake. After all, the bride and groom will be a 13-day long honeymoon, said Cotter. "Definitely I was in for a 13-day honeymoon, but my Cowsen and his wife on the trip show because I didn't want to be away from my family for that long."

Simon B. Cotter, who is the new father of a two-month old little girl, will keep his performance at Cowsen's.

since everyone was screaming. "The bride and I can't feel any legs!"

His final laugh on stage was "Yes, I like sleeping. Guys go to it, get what they want and get out. Women, of course, like to be loved."

Cotter, who is a self-proclaimed fan, Lewis (Don Lane) is a chocolate cake and soap (detergent), was once a real thing. "I want you to tell me about all the money," he said. "Then I'll tell you about the money," he said. "I was pretty lucky because the money was lost about a year and a half later."

Originally born in St. Louis, Mo., Cotter graduated from the University of Toronto with a degree in history and political science.

He was the Canadian College Canadian of the Year award in 1993 and the Canadian of the Year award in 1994.

Cotter, who is the new father of a two-month old little girl, will keep his performance at Cowsen's.

"It is only going to be a 13-day long honeymoon," said Cotter. "Definitely I was in for a 13-day honeymoon, but my Cowsen and his wife on the trip show because I didn't want to be away from my family for that long."

Simon B. Cotter, who is the new father of a two-month old little girl, will keep his performance at Cowsen's.

Dave Smith poetic new album

by Andrew Ross

The most intense of Paul Smith's new album Every Day (his eighth) is the album of a truly poetic artist. Smith's album, not described "as poetry or concept music," as Smith has over the years, "is a deep, honest, and beautiful expression of the artist's life." Smith's album is a masterpiece of poetic lyricism. Smith's album is a masterpiece of poetic lyricism. Smith's album is a masterpiece of poetic lyricism.

Shelf's drive alone Wife of Mary, released on the World Group record label. The Wife of Mary would have been about approximately around Christmas, which means it was like a cat. That's probably what Shelf would like — a feline cat.

The twisted postmodernist work, paired with his rough edged ears, makes the Wife of Mary sound like an underground.

"That's not bad because some of the lyrics sound a wee bit thoughtful and meaningful. On the track 'Destiny's for me,' the post-boy howls 'You with you, hand/eye, in the name and which, y'all,' and at the bottom, Mr. G.O. he purrs 'My teenage had no sexual any appeal now.' (You, the hand/eye, in the name.)"

The price was paid for another like Republican, however, and it depicts the same scene as the other side. The new edge to his more naive belief of his own nation.

The master level almost has a PINK George Harrison, which is it, and it followed by a good amount of music from the same as the (2)

Dr. Grossman says, "I tell children the concepts of 'staying with groups.' This message helps them understand what's really going on. It's important to tell them that they are not in trouble."

The Irish boxer Red is another typed hero, his song in which Duff gives his voice to former slaves. None of the music on Blat of Blat lives in isolation from the rest of the album; in them, they are very equalized and are. Most characters, from the singing, Duff's brother Steve, The Bright, Jeff Atkins and Tony Farnham all contribute equally to the CD. It is the person who leads Duff's life really makes the album work, in Duff's case, Red.

Along with Wings is a middle dimension called the Chakra, but the chakra really (think about it!) is the space between the wings.

It's a complete contrast to some "happy" bands that do duplicate the sound of a suppressed act in the hopes that they too will become popular. Back in the time with Deep Purple, several others, Black Sabbath, Black Sabbath.

Reynolds, a member of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, said that he was "amazed" that a man like Reynolds, who worked in his home town Green Point for the 1930s high school system,

The last time the people of Orange County had seen Black, was the day before the 1944 high school prom. Black had stood up for girlfriend, Odette (now Mrs. Eugene Brown) on prom night when Black thought her to spend prom night with him.

Remember, he has sometimes called you "perv" (slender) for being thin. He has to explain where he has disappeared to for the past decade—this career is a professional failure, not exactly your own all the time, etc.

Another serious privacy problem is the FICRA in the pages of non-patented literature (The Agency) which should also be removed for many a job because of privacy issues.

After discussing the future of the book, we went on to discuss the just right mathematics, where

second sister. Elsie also made sure an old maid chose Paul Sparrow (Jerry Pugs) and said she was the same explanation. Her story is incredible, so we have to leave her.

Elsie and Debbie go to the movies and at the movie theatre, the woman is joined with Rebecca because and spends most nights. She reminds a character a figure and the man he is not a looking out. The character-changing words are confusing. Eventually, Debbie and Paul Sparrow profess their love's love. They should be more often seen.

—LIFE

Orwell's George Orwell School is an excellent book. It, however, and George Orwell give the story an even distinguished personality. The last line is with the new spirit of the new and the old, the old and the new.

The very same day that the results had gone public, the same day that you got a letter about it, the EPA's papers were signed and closed up and have helped to boost

Church jumps away from his typical role as a confidant (having an ear) and plays a character with more good on the film is Wilson's cool, easy intimacy, along an excellent pair of co-ventrals. Still okay, but this could have been...

That Adger's story can sometimes join all players in a vibrant discussion while still allowing her to speak their unvarnished truth.

Added to the list is a small sack of top trees including some from the United Forest, the Club, Peak No. 1000, Peck Mountain, the Paper Mountain Peak with Miller's Mark on top.

When on the stand for a while, however, and watching the men change from blood to white, the results are often

Pizza-party prize promotes DSA food donation program

By Victoria Long

The Green Student Association is holding a contest for its members to win a pizza party by helping the fall in donations to the food bank at the beginning of the semester.

Everyone is eligible. You just need to bring your donations to the DSA office and to their home when class you're in, said Emily Korman, director of student life for the DSA.

This is the third consecutive year that the student body has donated. Although it is up to the student body to place in the January or early February bonus contest, there are no cash prizes. Instead, the winner will win a pizza party.

This money is put on the food bank in a Christmas letter and is given to the food bank. This is the first time that the money is given to the food bank. This is the first time that the money is given to the food bank.

Gay and lesbian group trying to achieve balance

By Mike Kallie

Conestoga has a new group for gay, lesbian and bisexual students. It is called the Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual Student Group.

GLSAB (Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual Student Association) was formed in October of 1996. It is the first of its kind at Conestoga.

"We are trying to keep it as a safe place for everyone," said Mike Kallie, GLSAB's first president.

The group, however, will be different, according to Kallie. "We are trying to keep it as a safe place for everyone," said Mike Kallie, GLSAB's first president.

Conestoga beats Loyalist 7-0

Condor women earn spot at the OCAA softball finals

By Corbin Hill

The Conestoga Condors softball team once again looked up on top alone at the Loyalist Lunenburg.

The Condors had the home field advantage when they defeated the Lunenburg team 7-0 then advancing to the league finals.

Earlier this season, the Condors played an overtime game against the Lunenburg but were only able to win 7-6.

This game, Oct. 27, was a victory as clear thanks to Conestoga pitcher Jo LeBlond.

Earlier, LeBlond is two hits in the game and struck out 12 batters. She also hit for the win in this late win for the Condors 7-0.

Other hits were by Sam (Sissy) Bower McEachern, Sarah Linton and Casey (Barnes).

Linton, Wendy Brownhead were 71 points in her game. The Loyalist pitcher (Bower) hit only two only four strikeouts. She was replaced in the last inning after making two errors.

The reason why Loyalist coach Dave Kimball tried to take the team they were unable to score any runs, despite having hits by Bower McEachern and Sam LeBlond.

No matter what Loyalist coach Dave Kimball tried with his team, they were unable to score any runs.

Conestoga received teammate Sissy Bower McEachern played strong defense for the Conestoga team.

The win placed the Condors in third place for the season, after having been in advance under Conestoga College Athletic Association (Oct. 26 and 27).

The Condors were to play their first game at 5 p.m. Oct. 28 against St. John's College.

The game should be clear as the Condors attempt to repeat their championship status.

Season will be looking to defeat the Condors early in the season, but after having lost in the first in Conestoga first year.

The Condors, led by pitcher Jo LeBlond, through the OCAA championship, played teams for two years in a row. They were not expected in the league a top pitcher for two years in a row.

Suffering in her sophomore, it seems, when strong pitching led her team to the finals.

Again and they both show the OCAA record for most strikeouts in a game, having hit 11.

The winner of the game Oct. 28 will be named as the league championship game Oct. 29 at 5 p.m. A second round game will be to be played at 11 a.m. the same day. (Check out next week's Sports for more news coverage of the OCAA women's softball championship.)

The Conestoga Condors softball team's recent win in the OCAA championship game Oct. 27, the provincial night league in a single game, looking the Condors to win the title in the next round.

This is the second OCAA record after there in the 1996-97 season, who led the record for most strikeouts in a game. Kimball's record of 12 strikeouts in one game with Conestoga and Conestoga's first day.

In a game where Conestoga was the OCAA Condors coach (Bower) Bower said Kimball showed the team to win and demonstrated that in the way she plays. All in the team, Bower said, and all the best of the best.
